AudioVu Expands Staff, Adds New Web Designer

June 17, 2009 St. Louis, MO – St. Louis, MO based AudioVu.com, a pioneer and leader in the internet technology industry, has added to their staff, hiring Faith Lane as their newest Web Designer.

Lane's professional background includes KV Pharmaceuticals, where she worked on websites for Evamist and Prima Care One; Maritz, where she designed and developed web-based incentive programs for clients including Ford and Buffalo Wild Wings, and Network Solutions. "We're very excited to add someone with Faith's experience and vision to our staff," said AudioVu Founder and President Lawrence Norber. "She's extremely talented and she's a great fit for us." A St. Louis native and a graduate of Hickey College, Lane is also a skilled photographer and she and her husband have two sons, Xavier, 6 and Jesse III, 2.

AudioVu.com is an international marketing communications company specializing in website development and content designed to generate increased sales and selling opportunities from any website. With a staff of professional writers, voice talents, audio engineers and internet developers, AudioVu has clients throughout the United States, Canada and the UK.
