AudioVu.com Expands Again...with a Creative Touch

February 14, 2006, St. Louis MO-- AudioVu.com announces the addition of Nikki Sauer, Internet Services Manager to it's staff.

In an effort to expand the breadth of it's client services, AudioVu.com has added a specialist in web design and internet content development to it's professional staff to provide a higher level of customer service in specific technology based areas. Nikki Sauer, a recent graduate of Hickey College will utilize her creative training and background to facilitate design and implementation of web content and web development, custom brochure development, corporate identity work, broadcast email development as well as database management.

"Nikki was an excellent find and really helps round out our ability to provide a more complete suite of services to our customers. Many of those services were often requested but we did not have the staff expertise to perform the work. She brings a new flare to the organization. Her experience in website design, boundless creativity and ability to execute is just what we were looking for" said Lawrence Norber, President of AudioVu.com.

Additionally, Sauer's new position will also entail coordination with creative, engineering and voice talent staff personnel at AudioVu.com, all involved in the production of it's internationally distributed core product, AudioVu professional voice-overs for websites.

AudioVu.com, based in Clayton Missouri specializes in professionally produced custom streaming voice-overs for websites that drive desired visitor behavior and converts that visitor to a live prospect / contact. AudioVu.com transforms any website into a compelling multi-media sales and marketing resource that increases productivity and has statistically proven to increase time spent on a website, page views per session and dramatically improve information retention and lead production. AudioVu.com services a wide variety of industries in business to business and business to consumer sales and marketing via websites and related internet content.
